FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Section A - About the Program

1. What is Euroweek Foundation and Program?

Euroweek was founded in 1994 by a group of students interested in European integration, democracy, socio-cultural activities and the development of local communities. Euroweek was under the Europejskie Forum Młodzieży until it became officially part of Euroweek Foundation in 2016.

One of the founders is Adam Jaśnikowski, who is currently the Director of both the Foundation and the Program. Back then, the training was focused on integrating and informing the Polish students about local and international issues through various conferences and seminars conducted among themselves through group discussion and later on key speakers such as ambassadors, local government units and alike were invited. The topic mostly in European Integration and governance.

As the program became renowned, international speakers and participants added to its unique platform which led to the creation of voluntary service in partnership with Erasmus and later on becoming the program's very own Euroweek School of Leaders.

To date, Euroweek Foundation has expanded and different platforms to cater the international arena were created. Aside from the Euroweek Program which is the heart of the Foundation, we are also having international offices in Turkey, Azerbaijan, Indonesia and partner institutions in China. Last March 2020, Euroweek International Online Study Program was created as the online flagship of the foundation to reach more youth across the world.
